

A dignified and peaceful society where there will be an understanding, respect, practice of human rights, democratic process and culture according to the international instruments.